DON'T SAY YOU DON'T

REMEMBER

As we ripple down the piano of life, we begin to realize that each of us is tuned to a different tempo-some adagio, some moderato, and some allegro.

ROCK AROUND THE CLOCK

THE WAY WE WERE

We each can play an important part in the harmony and together we can be composed into a beautiful score.

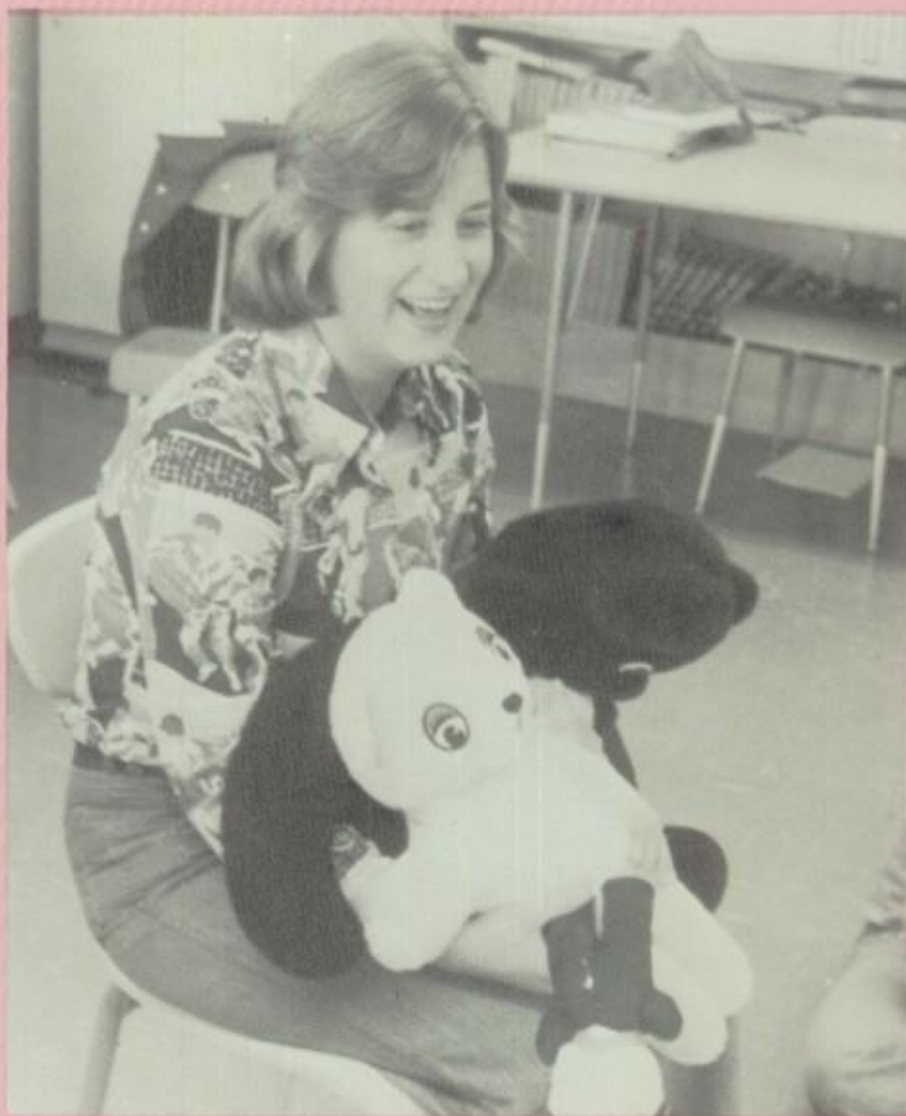

ALL SHOOK UP

Each of us is a note. Set apart we have our own timing and rhythm.

THE

ENTERTAINER

We recall the music of our accomplishments and our disappointments. The memories call us back to the way we were-DON'T SAY YOU DON'T REMEMBER!

TAKING CARE OF BUSINESS

TOP OF THE WORLD

The school board of the Paragould School District functions as a body for the promotion of better education for its students. Through their monthly meetings, the Board has approved the building of a new parking lot and tennis courts on the south end of the campus. They also have provided for a new media-center and a health room. Mr. Pete Black, RIGHT, serves as president of the board.

KING OF THE ROAD

Leadership is the highest quality required of our superintendent, Mr. Orville Roberts. During the thirteen years of service to the Paragould School System, he has used his guiding hand to direct the schools in the district to provide quality education to its students. Mr. Roberts solves many of the problems that arise during the year and gives personal advice for the betterment of the school.

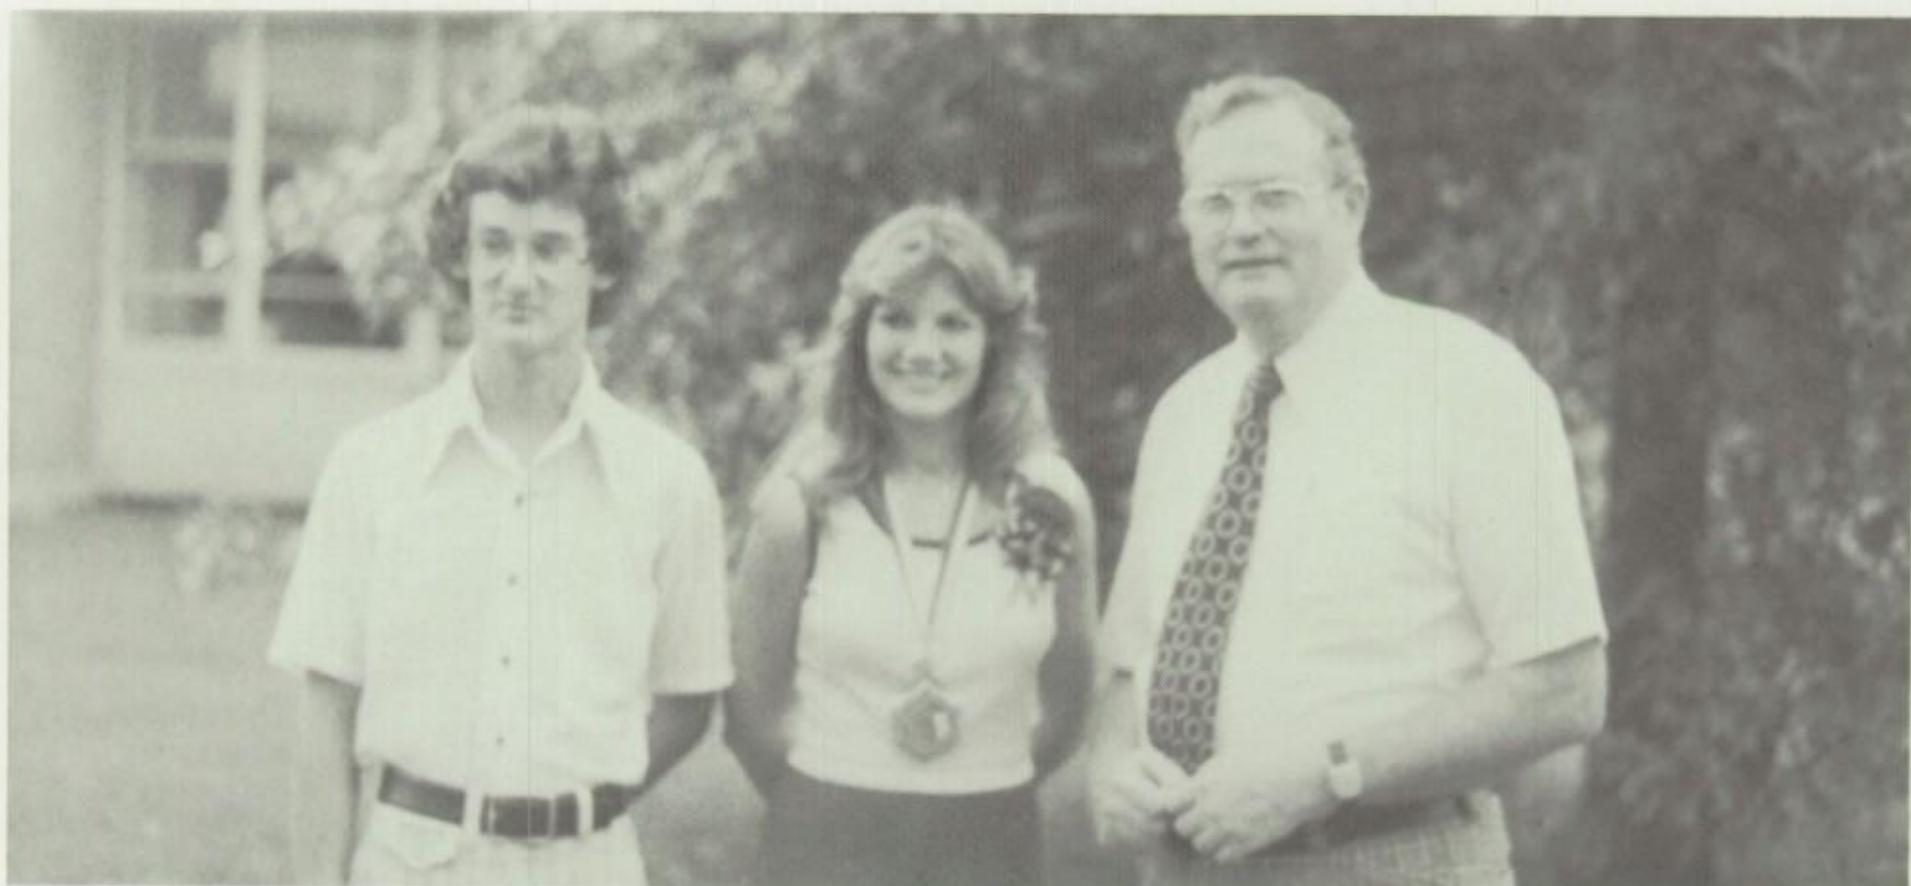

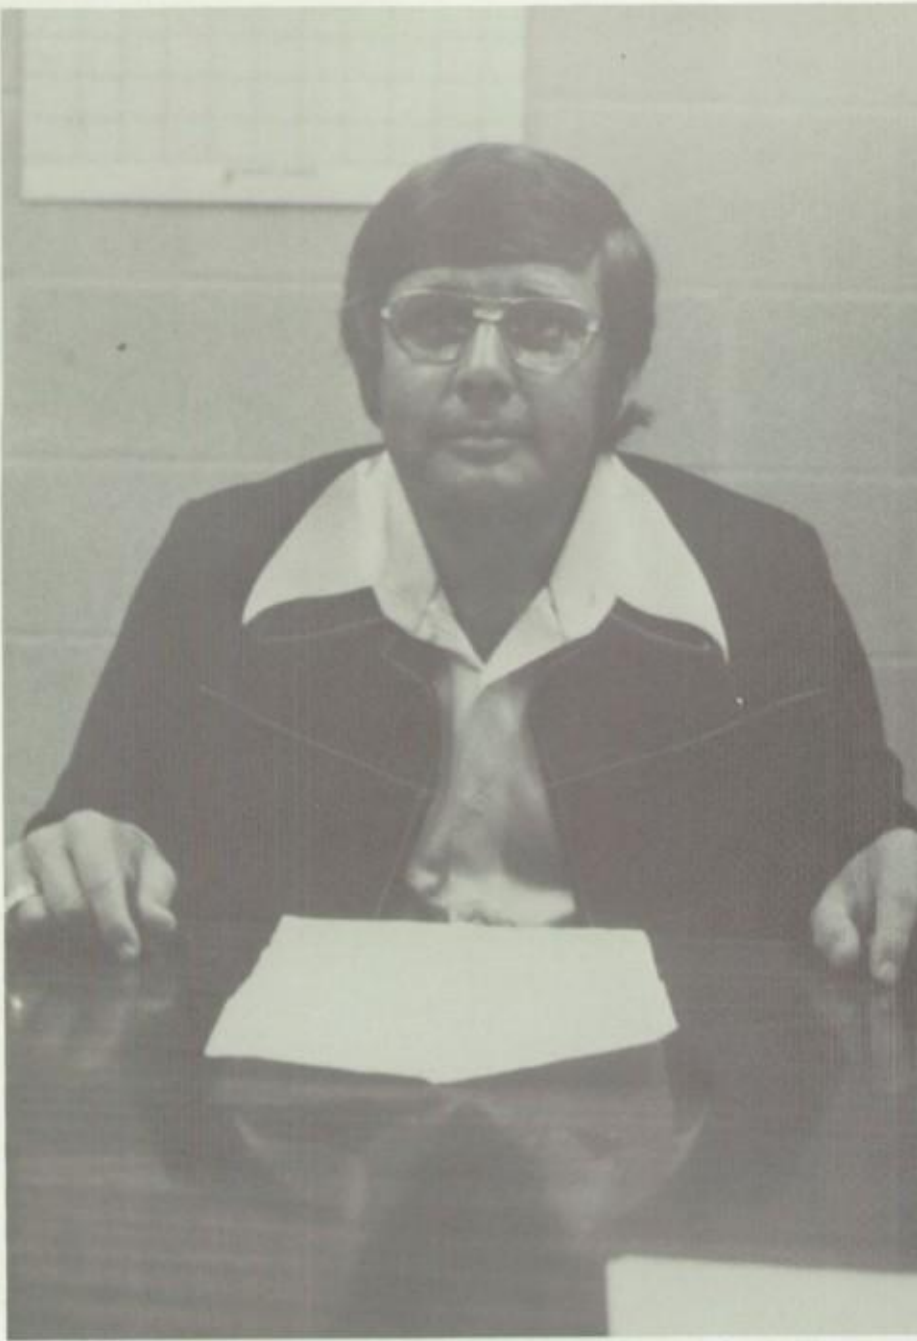

Bernadine Robinson has served as secretary to the superintendent for 40 years.

LISTEN TO WHAT THE MAN SAYS

To acknowledge the pains of growing up as a teenage in this ever increasing fast paced world, Mr. Smalling helps to pad the way for each student. Though discipline is necessary in some cases, he is known for his fairness in dealing with each individual.

WILDFIRE

Serving as assistant principal can sometimes have its ups-and-downs as Coach Raymond Duncan could easily testify. He has opened a new student center, The Orange Room, which transfers some of the confusion from the principal's office.

Helping students with various school problems is the primary function of Mr. Ralph Bley (LOWER LEFT). As guidance counselor, he helps pave the road for preparing seniors for college and testing others in aptitude and intellectual ability. Mr. Bley also helps in preparing students for the working world by teaching occupations. Lateresa Hatcher aids Mr. Bley in serving as assistant counselor.

Mrs. Ward Stanton has been the secretary in the principal's office for 10 years. Mrs. Herbert Starr serves as her assistant.

FTA

Deciding on one's career is an important decision for a young person. One of the duties of the Future Teachers of America is to show students what is involved in this occupation. This year FTA members assisted PHS teachers by providing bulletin boards before N.C.A. evaluation. Along with this contribution, club members visited the nursing home and became "teachers for a day" at various Paragould schools.

Officers: Nonie Sheffield - president, David Greenway, Martha Felts, David Smith.

FBLA

The main goal of the FBLA is to develop better leaders of the business world of the future. Members study the fields of bookkeeping, typing, and shorthand.

After selling Tom Watt Kits, visiting the nursing home, and hosting a Valentine tea for the teachers, FBLA'ers still had energy to walk in the Walk-A-Thon they sponsored at the end of the year.

LIBRARY CLUB

During each and every hour of the school day a student librarian is working to help us, not only in the library, but also in the audio-visual room. These volunteers are members of the Library Club, a very important service organization at our school. BAND ON THE RUN

Officers are: Linda Martin- president, Crete Branch, Bridget Spencer, Adrianne Alexander, Ann McKenzie

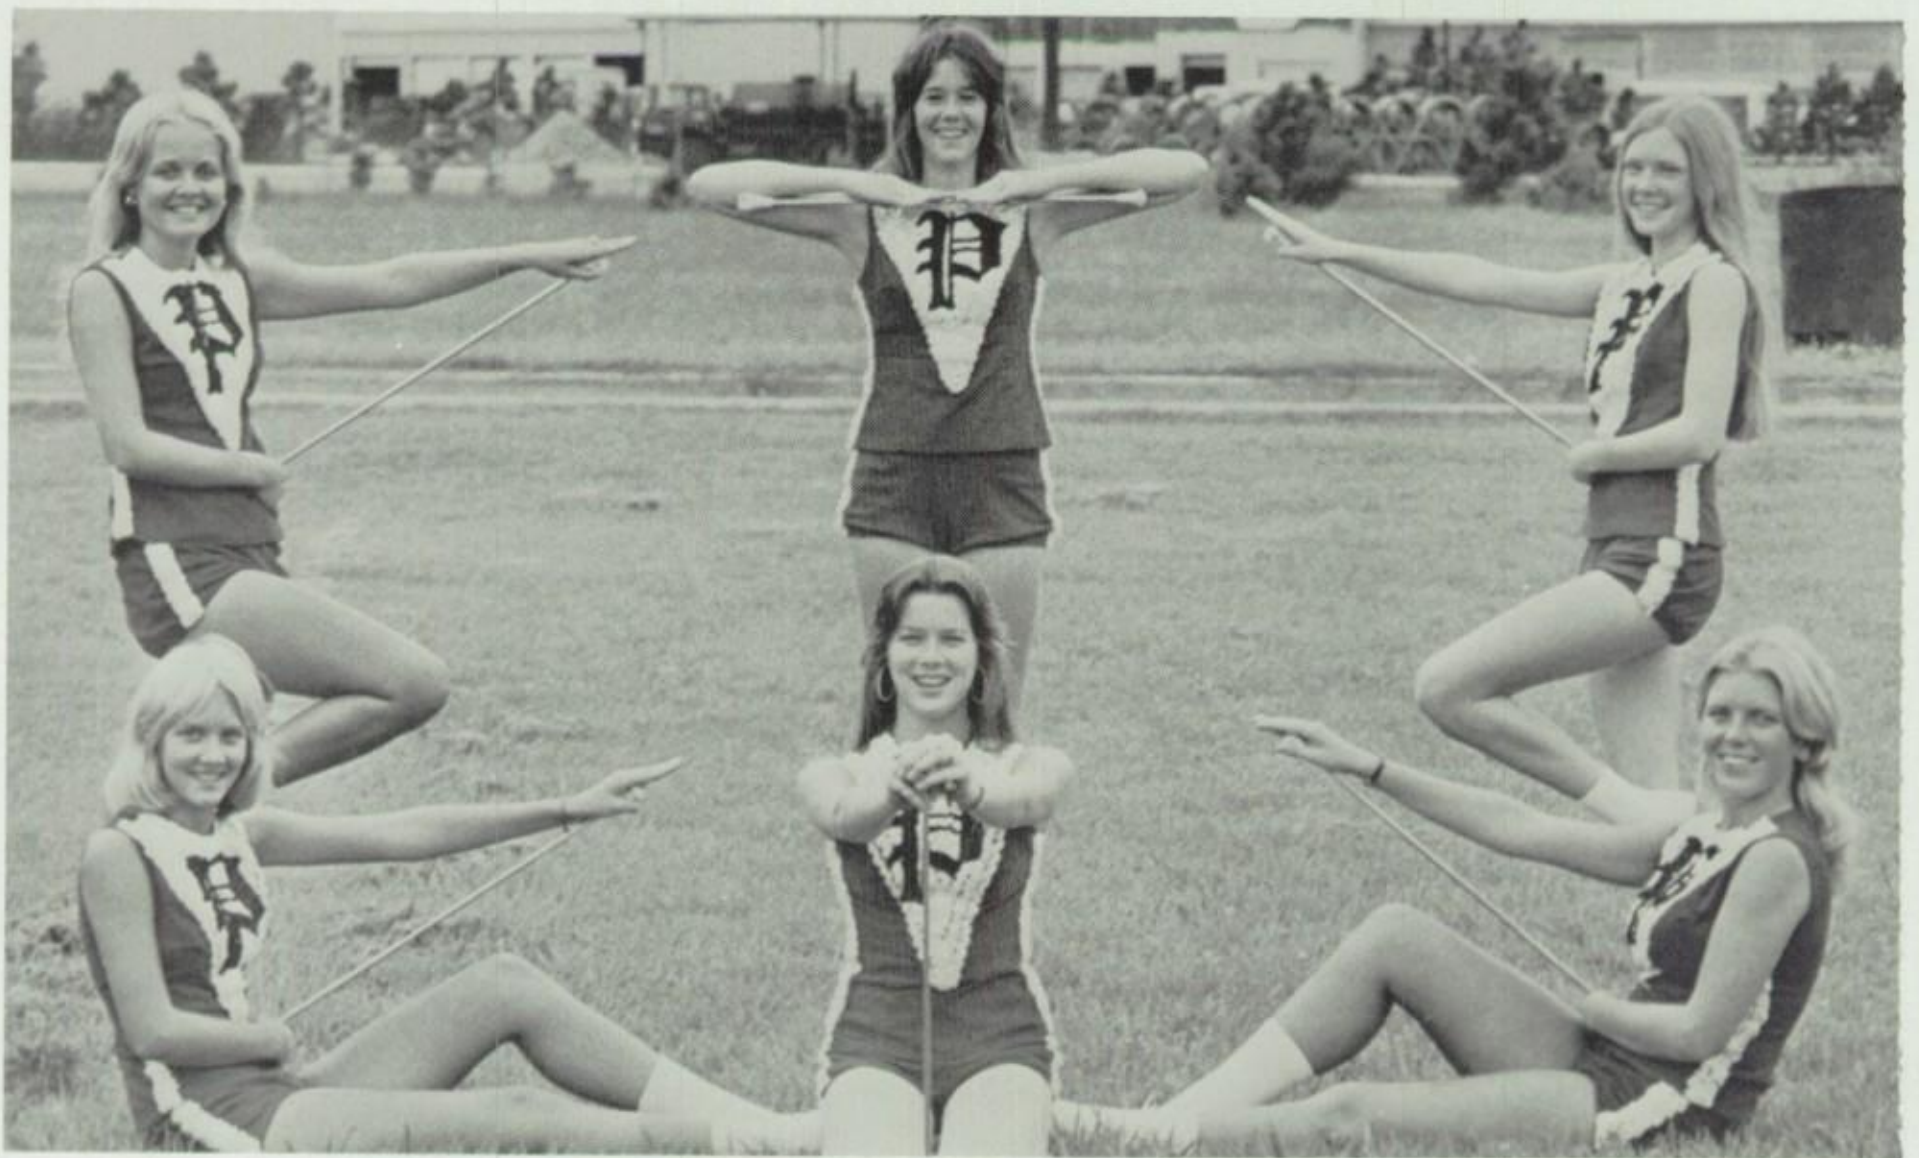

Under the direction of a new head majorette the PHS Band marched at football games, parades, and the Jonesboro Marching Contest at ASU. These young musicians provided music for pep assemblies, basketball games, and concerts. Besides making music, the band students sold magazine subscriptions and helped run the Junior Clinic tryouts at PHS this year.

"A" TEAM DISPLAYS ITS SKILLS

Attending clinic, leading pep assemblies, sponsoring dances and cheering at ballgames are just a few of the duties that befall an A team cheerleader.

The girls practice regularly on stunts and yells, and display their skills repeatedly throughout the year. They constantly show pep and enthusiasm and they support our team one-hundred percent.

BEEZERS GIVE SUPPORT

Jumping, back-handsprings, round-offs and walkovers were all combined to form the B-team cheerleaders. The girls used their quick wit and perfect timing together and came out with a spirited squad and an overall first place trophy from ASU. They not only supported the A team cheerleaders but also their team.

WASTED DAYS AND WASTED NIGHTS

Reviewing the calm, uneventful past year at PHS, people always seem to remember the crazy things that happened.... those originated by the annual staff. When things were down and school was torturing students' minds, all that had to be done was to peek out the door of a classroom and you would see at least one member of the annual staff up to the usual tricks.

Larry never knew of the illegal advantages of being on the staff and stayed in the room slaving over layouts. Larry never wasted any time though in telling us all how he managed not to miss one Algebra question.

Greenway, alias Ashlin, became part owner of Child Art Studio by using the $1000 profit from the successful button sale at the Greene County Fair. She patterned her life after Minnie Pearl by leaving her price tag on her car.

Mark, alias Gussy, proved to be one of the most "useful" on the staff. He proudly presented the editors with four pages of football layouts all drawn up by Dennis and then in shame took off to the Daily Press. He always checked in the first 5 minutes, left and miraculously made it back for lunch.

Teresa, also bearing the nickname Lay-Teresa, improved relations with Larry and went on to win the title of Typer of the Year. Teresa also set up a Dear Abbey booth in the annual room for broken-hearted lovers and continual counseling she gave.

Melinda was always sending us into hysterics telling us the latest Fonzie joke, or showing us the latest edition of the bump, practiced on her bedpost. Melinda and Kim constantly joined forces in attacking the school with civil defense wars and writing secret love-letters to student teachers, signing them Ashlin.

Linda proved to us that she was not a racist by displaying her love for Blacks. She was sometimes determined not to "Lettuce Move A Head!". She also spent half of her annual period down at Yates Jewelry waiting for her ring to come in.

Dennis, or Den-Den, turned out to be this years' "lover boy" on the annual staff, racking up 13 letters the third day at annual clinic, all addressed to "Den-Den" and all written by other annual staff members.

Even though we missed a few of our deadlines, skipped out every now and then to the lounge, and miraculously found several excuses to get out of working, Ms. Prince always kept backing us and encouraging us to do better-really just to do! Without her help it would have been almost impossible to have produced such an "adequate?" yearbook.

PLAYGROUND IN MY MIND

Homecoming royalty (l. to r.): Andy Ford, Audri Rogers, Bill Pyland, Lissa Thompson, Sam Oliver, Crete Branch, Drew Quinn, Crystal Palmer, Mike Bevill, Donna Smith, Todd Dudley, Jana Williamson,

HOMECOMING QUEEN DONNA SMITH

ROLLIN' ON THE RIVER

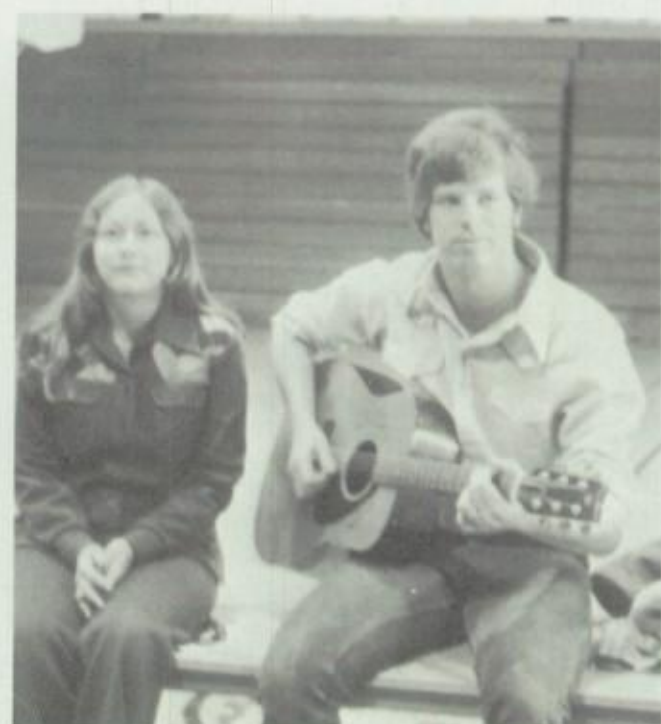

Rolling along to the sounds of the Ole South, PHS became alive as Homecoming '76 was launched. We reminisced back to the times of the beautiful Southern Belle and the handsome Rhett Butler. Spirits were kept high by the annual Homecoming parade through town. After sailing to an easy victory over Mountain Home, a dance by Cottonmouth followed to end a wonderful day of busy activities.

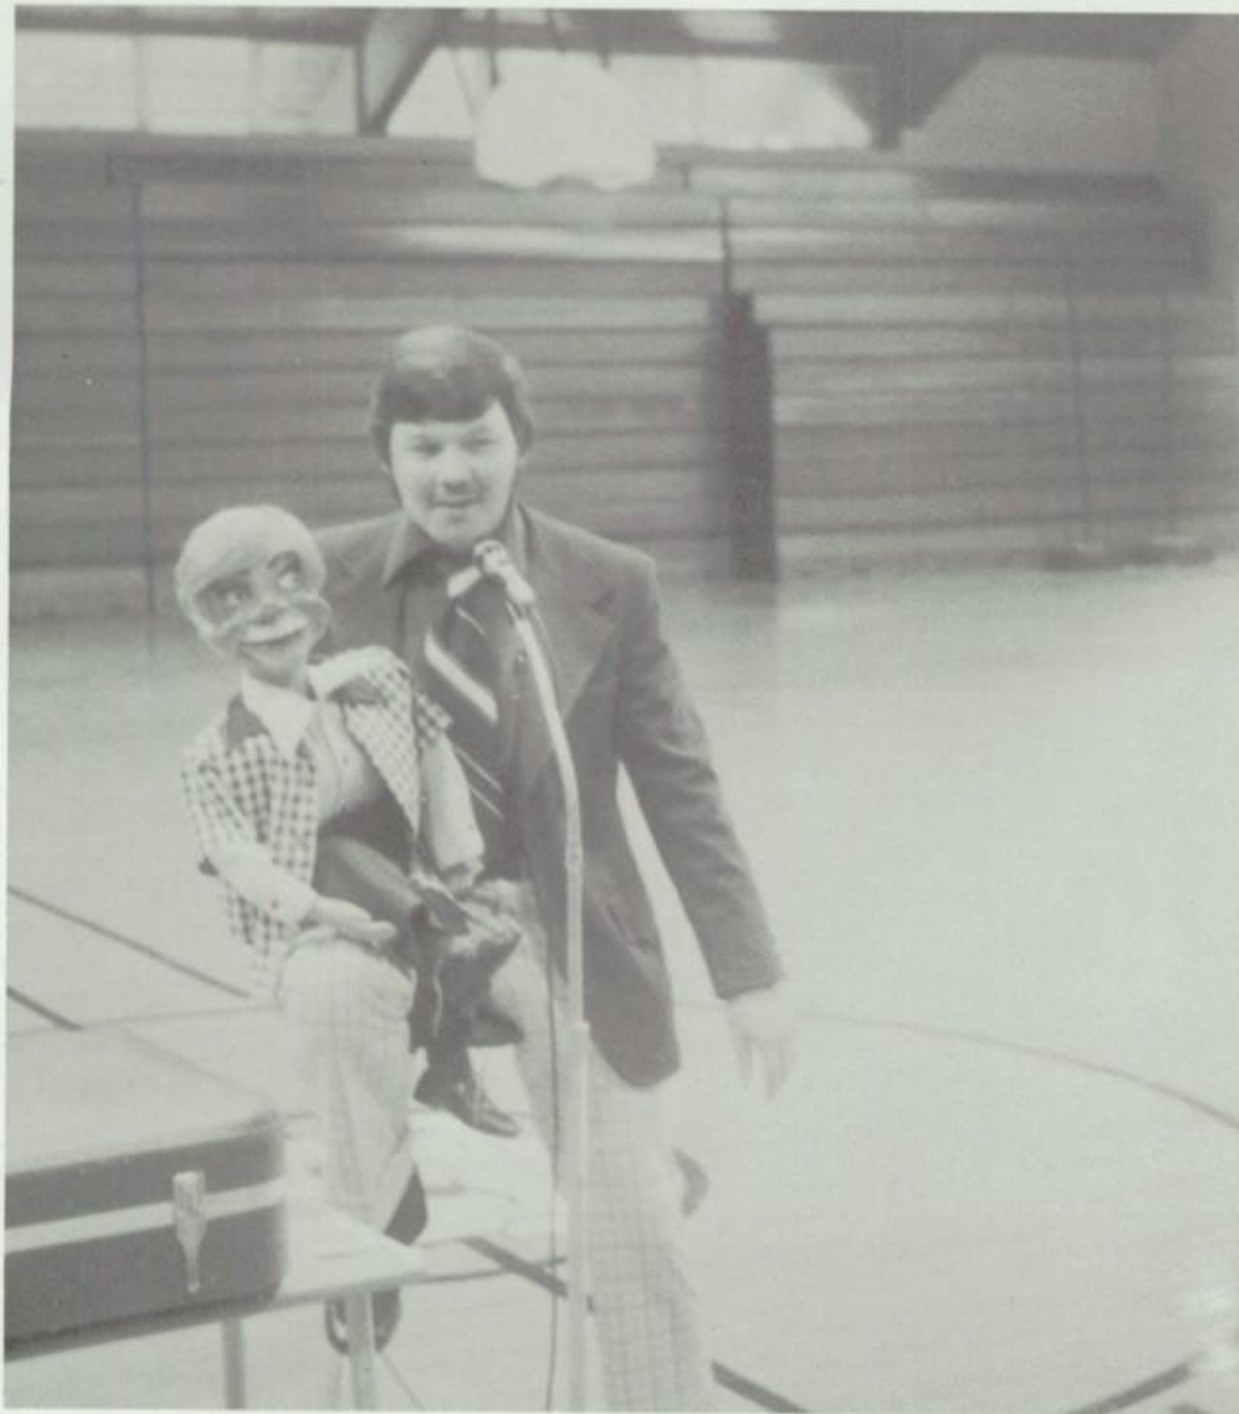

Homecoming maids (l. to r.): Toni Crutchfield, Marianne Fisher, Ann McKenzie, Melinda Meadows, Donna Smith, Crete Branch, Donna Horne, Lissa Thompson, Audri Rogers.

After a week of spying, stapling, and puffing, the winning float, "Send Em Down The River," was produced by the Junior class.

ASSEMBLIES

PHS received a variety of assemblies this year, varying from comedian ministers to dance groups, crying dog assemblies, and various singing groups. Through it all, the entertainers captivated the PHS student body's attention and many hearts as well. Mr. McFadden always evoked a round of standing ovations with his performances of "Proud Mary" and "Mr. Tambourine Man." Mr. Meadows and Mrs. Dover proudly displayed their "teenie bopper" imitations in presenting pep assembly awards, and Senath High School miraculously managed to present to us some amusing programs again this year. Assemblies are a luxury that many students appear to take for granted; however, anything that brings a smile or a tear to the eye is very worthwhile.

YOU ARE SO BEAUTIFUL

Looking their prettiest, the thirty four class beauties were presented to a very large crowd on February 23. Each class of girls had a different emcee, members of the annual staff. The highlight of the evening was of course, the crowning of the Bulldog Queen. This ritual didn't follow tradition, but the crowd seemed to like the new idea. Queen Crete Branch received a standing ovation.

WHO'S WHO

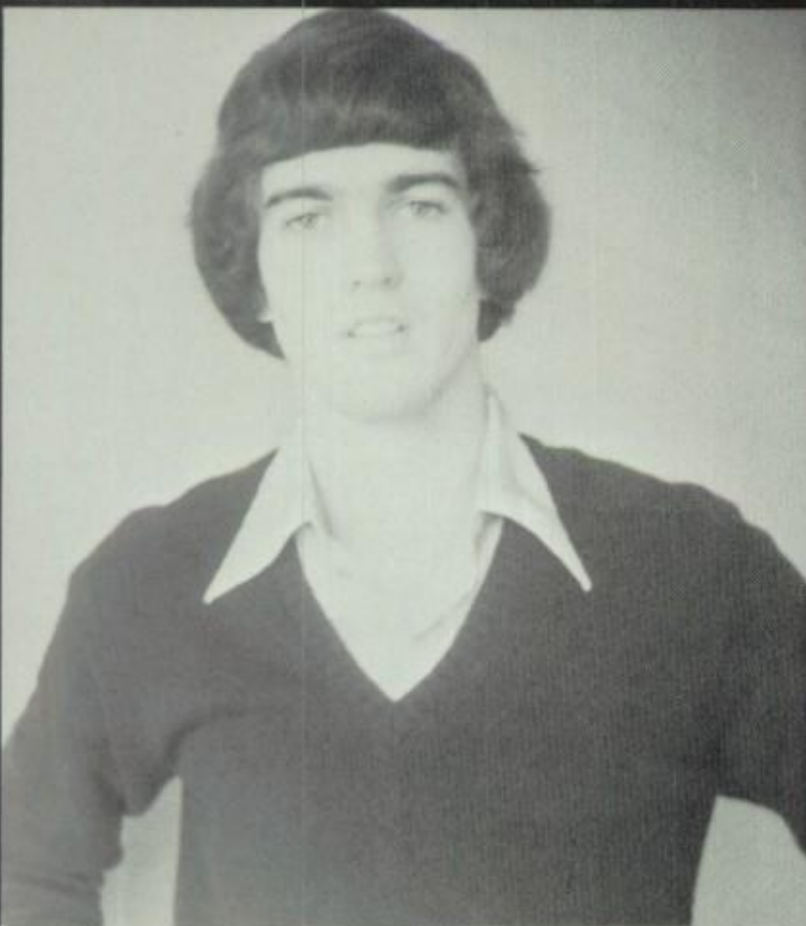

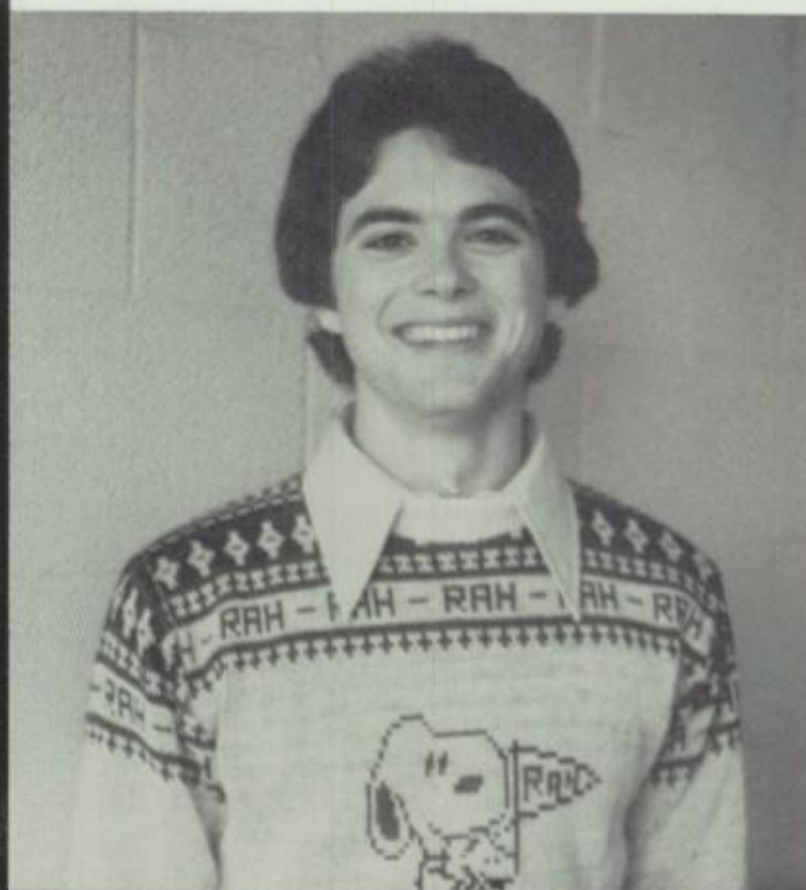

MELINDA MEADOWS

An angel at school, that everyone knows,
Who goes by the name of Melinda Meadows.
Is always seen dieting and doing dumb things.
With Fonze imitations, laughter she brings.

MARK MILLER

Mark Miller, Mark Miller, the hit of school,
Was happy and lively and fun as a rule.
The school girls would swoon, when Mark would walk by,
'Cause he'd let out a laugh and always say, "Hi."

TODD DUDLEY

Todd Dudley is really quite tall,
Todd Dudley can dribble a ball.
All Region blockers and All Region guards
Couldn't keep Dudley from baskets and yards.

MELISSA BOGGS

Melissa Boggs twirled for the Dogs.
To fans she was a thriller.
Always in style, she'd give a smile,
In hopes to keep her Miller.

WHO'S WHO

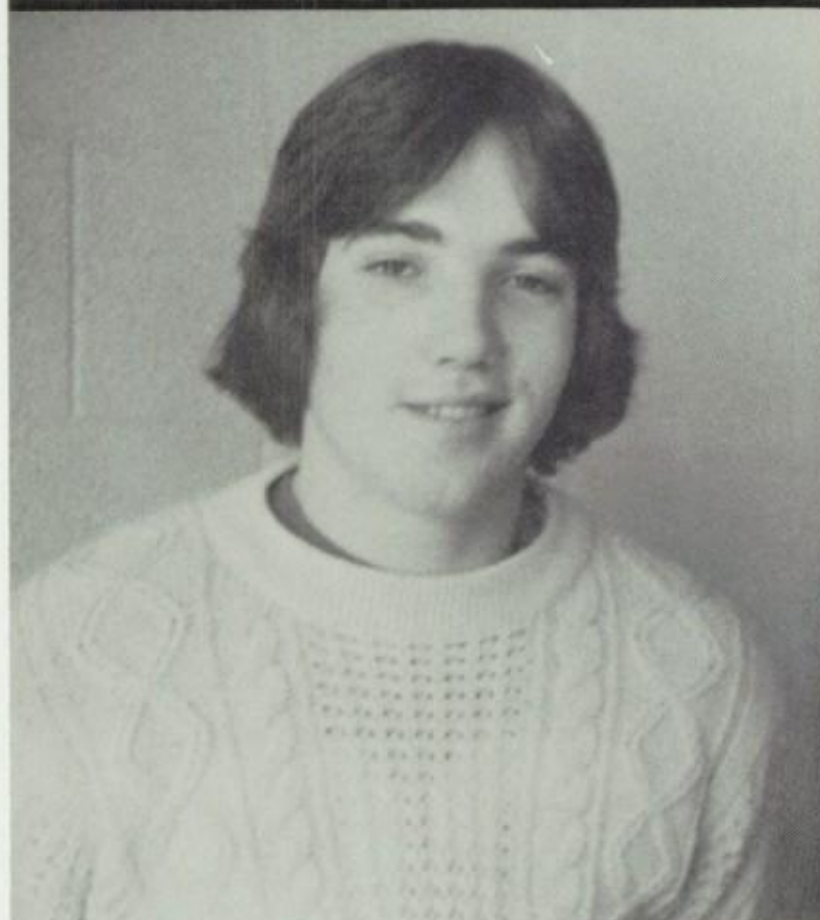

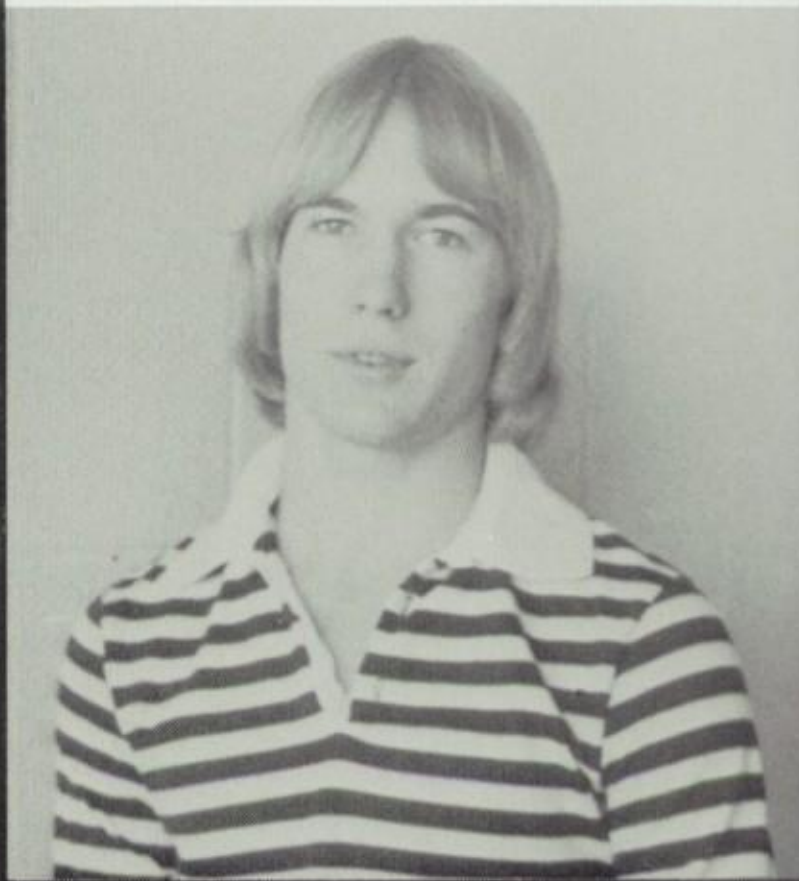

LINDA MARTIN

Lovely Linda danced away,
Far into our hearts to stay.
Lunchtime always tops the day,
She can hardly wait till May.

NEAL AINLEY

Golden Boy Ainley showed quite plainly
Just how sly he could be.
The heart strings he pulled;
His mother he fooled,
For she said, "What a good boy is he."

MIKE BEVILL

Little Mike Bevill was taught by the Devil
To tackle with fury and might.
His technique was neat,
'Cause he'd stick out his feet
And opponents would freeze at the sight.

CRETE BRANCH

Oh, where have you been charming Crete, charming
Crete?
Oh, where have you been, my Roberta?
When she's out, boys stop and stare,
Captivated by her air.
But she's a young thing and cannot leave her mother.

WHO'S WHO

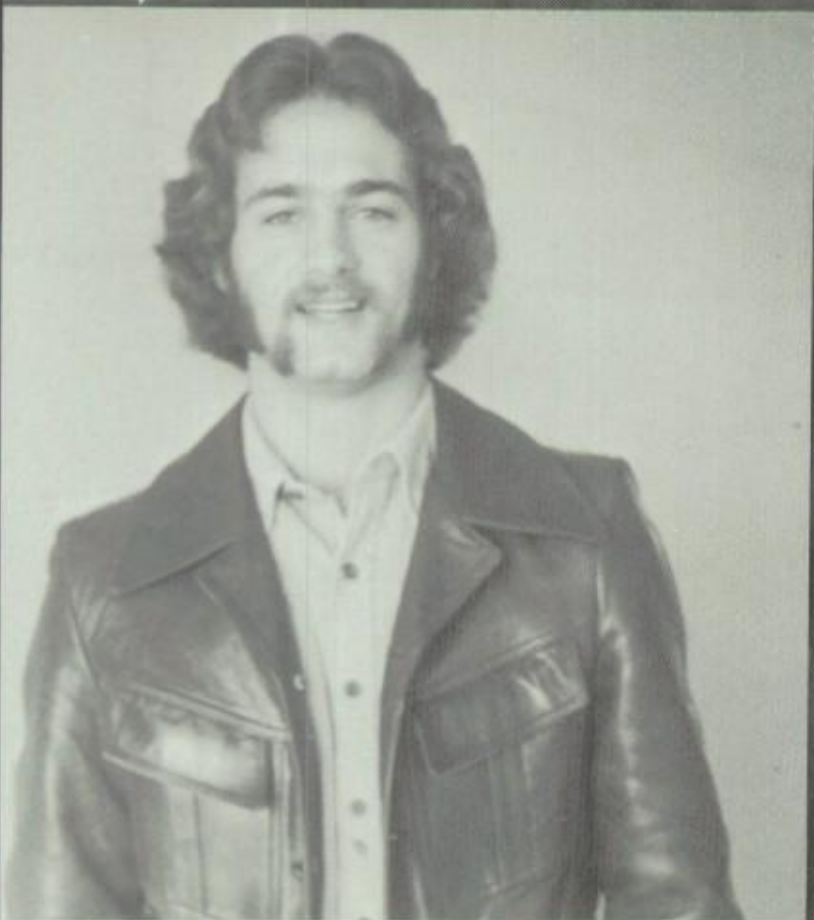

KIM JOHNSON

Kim Johnson is bubbly, silly, and cute,
And only for college guys does she give a hoot.
She cheered and she smiled, throughout all the year,
She's one in our hearts we'll always hold dear.

BRUCE BRANCH

Bruce, Bruce, the lawyer's son,
Our student government he tried to run.
The laughs he stole. He'll reach his goal.
In life he'll play an important role.

JOEL PHILHOURS

Little Joey came to town,
Football hero was his reason.
But hunting seemed more important,
For Moose and Fish were in season.

NONIE SHEFFIELD

Nonie Sheffield led our spirit.
When she knew her math, you'd hear it.
Always happy, full of wit,
Pretty Nonie Sheffield.

JUNIORS COME "CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN"

CHEAPER BY THE DOZEN, a 1920 comedy, portrays the difficulties in a home where saving time is the first objective. Anne Gilbreth, played by Ann McKenzie, rebels against her father's rule; and Mr. Gilbreth (Larry Johnson) tries to discourage Anne from wasting time. Mrs. Gilbreth (Teresa Dawson) steps in often to keep peace. Anne lines up a date with Larry, (Tommy Shewmaker), but has to cancel it when she is caught cheating on an exam by Miss Brill (Andrea Walters). Problems arise from antics of the children played by Donna Horne, Annette Messer, Carol Ratton, Stan Smith, Tammy Marshall, Donnie Gregory, Keith Cox, and Don McDaniel. Appearances by Kim Loftin and Chris Jordan keep the play moving. The play was directed by Ms. Teresa Palmer, and it proved to be a huge success for the Junior class.

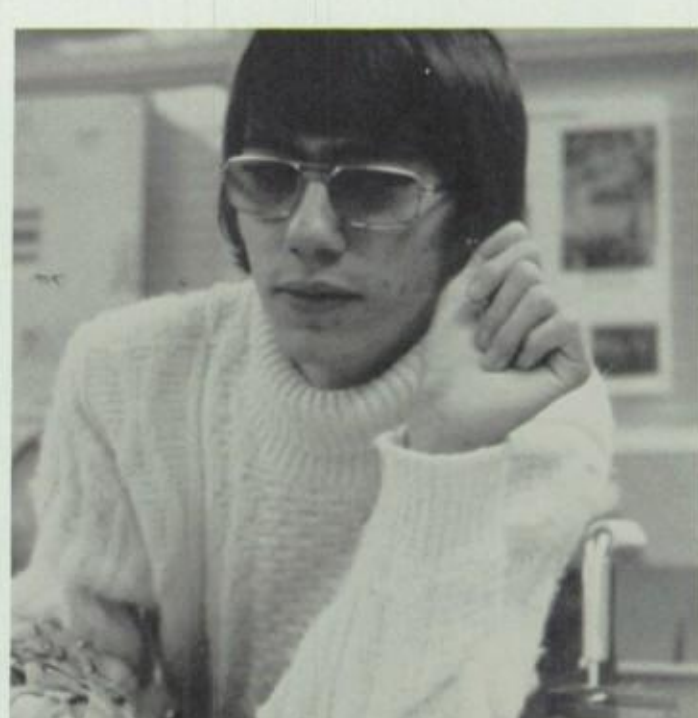

"MIRTH AND MAYHEM"

SENIOR PLAY CAST

Amid last of the school year activities appeared the Senior class play entitled "Mirth and Mayhem". A play, whose scenes are set at a mysterious haunted house involves a clique of girls who attempt to prove their independence from boys. Utter chaos is made of the night when strangers make face and add to the turmoil and fright of the eerie surroundings. The play cast members kept their audience spellbound as well as Karen Cox, the speech teacher and director of the play.

With the loss of seventeen seniors, a five hundred season was only expected of the supposedly weakened Dogs. A region title? It was thought to be totally out of the question. But the Dogs moved on like a precisioned machine, beating the pre-season picks and pushing their Grade A Defense into the No. 1 position in the state.

JUNIOR BULLDOGS

The Dogs proved to everyone that they were winners by matching last years unbeaten season. As the season progressed, so did the Dogs. By the end of the regular season the Dogs were the No. 1 team in the state in AA football. Thoughts were already developing of a rematch that had left the only scar of last season; Paragould vs. Stuttgart.

The stage was set on a bone chilling Friday night. The game developed into a battle of the defenses with neither offense mounting much of a threat. A busted play and a short field goal in the final quarter put the Ricebirds in front. The Dogs ended up thirty seconds late and three points short.

BULLDOGS TAKE IT TO STATE

BASKETBALL SCHEDULE

This year at Paragould, the closest thing to a miracle happened. The Bulldogs matched their football philosophy and bought home the region crown in basketball. Then they headed for state where they were brought down in their second game by Dumas.

First year coach, Gary Washington, had his problems at the beginning of the season, often wondering if the Dogs would have enough to play. He rallied his squad and showed the coffee-shop coaches he could do his job and do it well.

SENIORS LEAD DOGS TO REGION CROWN

This year the Bulldogs had a balanced scoring attack with inside and outside shooting threats. Their defense remained the same throughout every game—a tough man to man. The Dogs seemed to lack in only one category, the bench. Without much depth, few people got many breathers and foul trouble always posed a problem.

B-TEAM HAS A ROUGH TIME

The B-team had a hard time handling opponents this year playing usually with only three or four players. Under the direction of Coach Watson, the B-Dogs managed to play without too much embarrassment. The B-Dogs gained valuable experience in the fundamentals of basketball in their pursuit of an A-team uniform. Even though the Beezers didn't gain anything, they still got to stay in shape all winter. What's more, they helped make the A-Dogs region champs.

PUPS SHOW PROMISE

This year the Bullpups were under new coaches, Ronnie Jones in football and George Robb in basketball. They experienced a 1-1-6 record in football and a 9-9 record in basketball. The Pups were being continually pushed on when their hopes were almost gone by a spirited cheerleading squad.

GIRL'S BASKETBALL

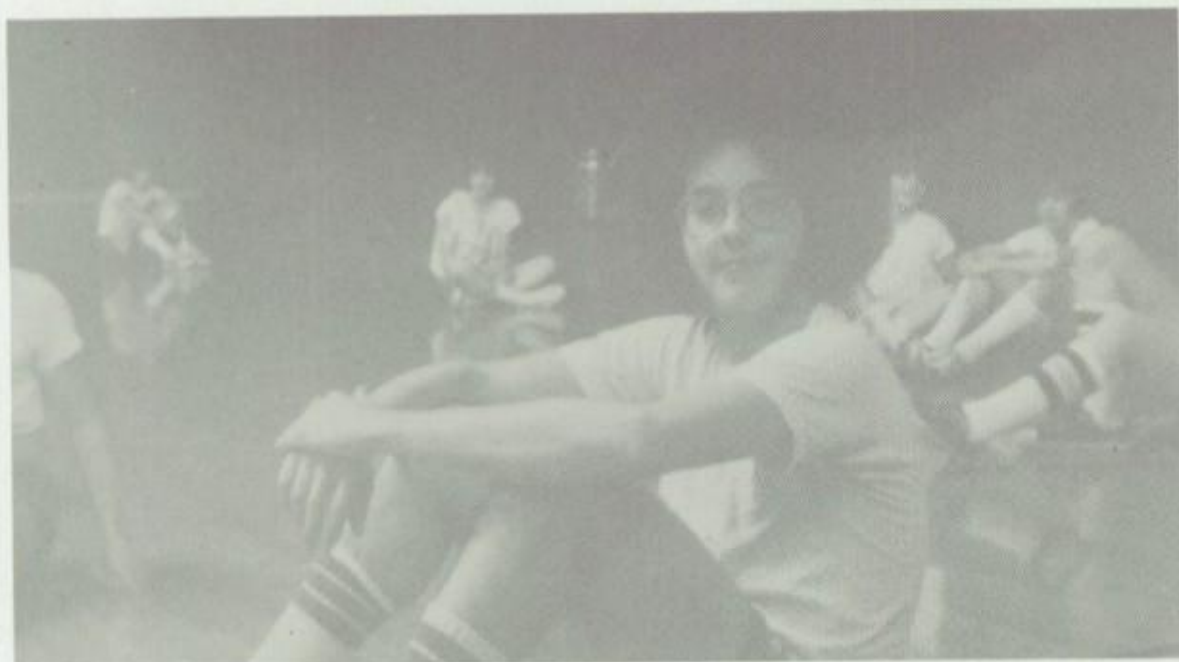

The senior girls proved that they take their basketball seriously, as they ran their record to 4-6 in their first year of competition. Led by senior sharp-shooter Kim Payne, the female Dogs showed that they have just as much of a bite as their male counterparts.

GIRL'S AND BOY'S P.E.

Anyone thinking of exercise at P.H.S. automatically thinks of two people - Emmy and Coach Keedy. Under their leadership, boys and girls involved in the physical education program are instructed in various sports such as golf, football, basketball, volleyball, bowling, and dancing.

Through involvement in sports, students learn the value of cooperation and the importance of exercise.

TRACK

By no means was sports over when spring arrived. Students became involved with another athletic event-track. Coach Keedy was faced with grueling competition with a small team. The sprinters served as the relay team and several other thin clads had to pull double duty in order to pick up enough points to compete in the meets.

Distance runners: Terry Ethridge, Barry Davis, R. D. Jackson, and Mark Ellison.

Field events: Danny Ethridge, Scott Britt, Barry Tripod, and Barry Hestand.

GOLFERS TURN GREEN

What the golf team lacked in experience they made up for with enthusiasm. The golf team lacked the depth that they have had the past few years, but they put their best on the line and brought home their share of victories. The tough competition faced by the golfers came from Jonesboro, Newport and Kennett.

SPRING NETTERS

With returning seniors Marcus McDaniel, Kevin Brocksmith, David Greenway and Scott Giles, the tennis team looked forward to another strong season around the courts. Once again the prospects of a good season and hopes of a state tournament bid were the goals of the spring netters.

FRONT ROW: David Greenway, Don McDaniel.
SECOND ROW: Marcus McDaniel, Stan Smith,
Scott Giles.

The bump, the hustle, Mr. Pibb, engagement rings, wedding bands, Ken's Pizza, the heating shortage, All-Region Band, All-Region Football, All-Region Basketball, the flu, platform shoes, Male jeans, Arkadelphia, Carl R. Reng Center, dances, parties, just to name a few, gave a new light to an old subject this year; school. Even though they weren't all good times, students always seemed to be expanding their interests to better suit themselves and their friends. High School is a time to study, a time to cram for nine-weeks tests, a time to live, a time to freeze in the smoking area, a time to campaign for new facilities, a time to cry over bad grades and arguments, a time for total involvement—Don't Say You Don't Remember.....
